

Please keep the internet freely available for all, including independent ISP's. The internet is the last bastion for free speech and free access to news throughout the world. This is too great a responsibility to be controlled by one company.

Also we need independent ISP's as BellSouth supports the monopoly operating system of Microsoft Windows will refusing to support other operating systems such as Linux. This is an attempt to force me into purchasing an operating system that I neither choose to use nor can I afford to use.

Do not allow BellSouth to control our internet access. Our very liberty and freedom depends on open access to all communications in the world using an operating system of our choosing. BellSouth has already demonstrated that they are not interested in supporting either on.
